

Open Access Option Form

Textrum offers authors an open access option on selected journals whereby their article will be freely available to both journal subscribers and nonsubscribers via the journal website.

To prevent any conflict of interests, authors may choose to have their article made open access only after the article has formally been accepted for publication. The fee for making an article open access is £1000/US$1595/€1161 excluding tax, and all authors wishing to take advantage of the open access option should complete and return this Open Access Option Form.

Authors who wish to take advantage of the open access option will still retain their rights outlined in Textrum's Copyright Transfer & Publishing Agreement.

I would like to make my article available to non- subscribers. Please invoice me for the amount of £1000 / US$1595 / €1161 excluding tax. (Tax-exempt customers must fill in the Tax Exemption section below.)
Do not send payment now; you or your institution will receive an invoice.
